

Professional Development
June 27-29, 2016
Bend, Oregon

$495
22 CEU hours for PATH Intl professional certifications, as well as CEUs for psychotherapists and counselors.

60575 Billadeau Rd, Bend, OR 97702
Mailing: P.O. Box 5593 Bend, OR 97701

Prerequisite: ESMHL Certification
Workshop attendance.

Register and pay workshop fee
to Healing Reins at (541)382-9410 x 12
Questions: Pollyc@healingreins.org

Cancellation Policy:
Healing Reins reserves the right to cancel the workshop if 15 participants have not signed up and paid by May 23, 2016. Anyone signed up prior to the cancellation date will receive a full refund.

Refund Policy:
Healing Reins will provide a 100% refund if participant cancels before May 23, 2016. Healing Reins will not provide any refund for cancellations received after May 23, 2016.

Learn from Two Founders of the Field of Equine Facilitated Learning and Psychotherapy:

Trish Broersma, MA, LMT, TRI, ESMHL

Trish established two accredited PATH Premier Accredited Centers over the past 25 years, and served as president of the Equine Facilitated Mental Association, a former section of NARHA. Her book Riding into Your Mythic Life: Transformational Adventures with the Horse, published in 2007 by New World Library, details her work in human development and the horse/human connection since 1980. She serves on the PATH Equine Welfare Committee and is faculty for the Equine Specialist Workshop. Currently she lives in Ashland, OR and conducts training and workshops in the US and Australia, including Riding Beyond, a program for women recovering from breast cancer treatment.

Leslie McCullough, PhD, LCSW, TRI, ESMHL

For over 35 years Leslie has conducted psychotherapy with youth, including 24 years as one of the first full time EFP programs in the country. Serving on the EFMHA board, Leslie was one of the co-creators of the ESMHL workshop, which she currently teaches throughout the US. Leslie is now an assistant professor in social work at Washburn University in Topeka, KS, and is also a consultant and trainer with Hope and Healing Academy. Leslie and her Tufts University colleague, Megan Mueller, PhD were the 2013 recipients of HHRF research funding on the effect of EFP on PTSD, results of which were presented at PATH 2015 national conference.

The Next Level for Equine Specialists

In-Depth, Practical How-To for Your Practice of Equine Facilitated Psychotherapy and Equine Facilitated Learning

THE HORSES

- How to train horses as co-facilitators in the settings of equine facilitated learning and psychotherapy, with a focus on relational liberty work.
- Considerations in pairing horses and clients for optimal outcomes.
- What kinds of horses work well in EFL and EFP environments. Holistic approaches to supporting horses doing this work.

YOUR PRACTICE

- How to provide ongoing assessment of situations, horses and clients for EFL and EFP: developing “new eyes.”
- How to incorporate EFP or EFL into a therapeutic riding center.
- Kickstarting your good idea into a broad-based community-supported program.

ETHICAL, EFFECTIVE ACTIVITIES

- Toolbox of activities that incorporate the horses’ sentient nature and their ability to provide and initiate therapeutic input as part of the four-member team.
- Training in creating effective EFL and EFP activities and sessions that align with PATH ethical guidelines and how to conduct them within your scope of practice.